

Thailand Nursing and Midwifery Council

Process for Accreditation of Nursing and Midwifery Education B.E. 2560 (2017)

The on-going nursing education institution is mandated to submit its Self Assessment Report (SAR) 6 months prior to expiring date of accreditation announced by Thailand Nursing and Midwifery Council (TMNC).

(For example if the institution has to submit SAR on the third year 6 months prior to an expiring date)

1. The institution submit SAR to TNMC.
2. TNMC by Profession Standard and Accreditation Division appoint a subcommittee to review SAR.
3. The sub-committee for reviewing, of the SAR do the reviewing using the TNMC Regulation on Criteria for Accreditation of Nursing and Midwifery Education Institution B.E. 2560 (2017) as guidelines.
4. After the SAR reviewing; the sub-committee conduct assessment visit to the institution.
5. The sub-committee assess the Educational Nursing institution using Assessment Form for Accreditation of Nursing and Midwifery Educational Institution as guidelines.
6. The sub-committee record all data observed, scoring each item, calculate total score as guided by TMNC.
7. The sub-committee propose result to the Accreditation Committee for considering whether the institutional being accredited. The area for improvement has to be identified and notify to the institution.